

New ISI Website (www.InternationalStudents.org)

Our new site combines isionline.org and our old student site into one website to help staff, donors, and students to partner more effectively with ISI.

Here are answers to a few questions you may have:

- How will this affect the donation process?
 - Donors will now be able to donate to ISI from anywhere on the website within three clicks. To make things easier, we have also introduced a website-wide search bar allowing donors to search for the donation page for any staff member.
- What happens if someone visits www.isionline.org?
 - For now, the old website URL (isionline.org) remains active. We will deactivate the old URL within the next couple months, but you should have enough time to update family, friends, and any donors who are planning on using the national website. This will not have any impact on your Weebly website(s).
- Will my email change?
 - Not at this time.
- Will this affect my direct donation link?
 - Yes, your direct donation link will be as follows: www.internationalstudents.org/team/firstname-lastname. As this only affects the national website, this will not affect online donations that take place through your Weebly website(s).
- How do I find my direct donation page?
 - On the national website, search for your name in the search bar located at the top of the webpage.
 - In the list of results, click the “Read More” button beneath your name to open your donation page.
 - Your direct donation link will be the URL of this page and will look something like: www.internationalstudents.org/team/firstname-lastname.
