Benefits to ISI

- Meet potential new volunteers, ministry representatives, and ISI staff
  - some of whom already have years of cross-cultural experience.
  - Some of whom are former international students or from other cultures.
- Church members are sometimes students, staff, and professors at local colleges and universities.
- Churches may provide food and space for events and activities.
- Churches will be mobilized to pray.

Benefits to the Church

- Opportunities!
  - for cross-cultural witness without travel.
  - to engage unreached peoples without travel.
  - to be connected with international students.
- Training church members in cross-cultural evangelism and discipleship.
- Church members often invite international students to church events.
